

Hot Springs National Park Artist in Residence Statement:

May of 2009 I lived in a beautiful rock cabin at Gulpha Gorge in Hot Springs National Park. I chose to spend my residency photographing on "Goat Rock Trail". I hiked with my camera each day at sunrise and again at the end of the day. It rained a lot that month! By the end of my residency I felt as if I had "crossed over" and become one with the trail and all the creatures that lived there. All prints were made using my Mamiya 6 film camera and were printed on black and white photographic paper.
